HAPPY INDEPENDENCE DAY!

Nothing says "Happy Fourth of July" like the rousing John Philip Sousa March, Stars and Stripes Forever. Music can stir up emotions like few other art forms can. Psychologists call it "reintegration." Basically, it means that some sensory stimulus such as sound or smell, can trigger a memory so vividly, that it almost puts you back in the moment you experienced it. Many people can remember the first song they danced to with their spouse. The smell and flavor of a Raspberry Iced Tea can take you back to picking raspberries at grandma's house as a kid. Often grief counselors will encourage people to keep an article of clothing of a loved one who has died for just such reasons. The human brain is a marvelous creation. Our milestone celebrations in life are reminders of the great times we've had in the past as well as catapulting us forward to making memories with our future generations. We hope your Fourth of July was a true ooh and ah experience.

Looking Back, Looking Forward

MEMORIAL DAY PARADE 2015

ALWAYS BE PREPARED

Always be prepared is an old saying from the Boy Scouts of America. We can't help but agree. The same is true for end of life planning as well. Obviously, no one likes to think about death, especially their own. While that is indeed a bitter pill to swallow, it is unavoidable.

We at Humenik Funeral Chapel can help you not only plan a funeral in advance, but we offer services that protect your assets, and bring peace of mind to you and your family.

Nothing is more difficult than planning a funeral when the death has just occurred. There are many emotional decisions in funeral planning that are much easier to make in advance with a "clear mind" and no pressure. In fact, having the person whose funeral is being pre-planned gives them the opportunity to make their wishes known so that the survivors don't have to make those tough decisions. When you're ready, just give us a call and schedule an appointment to come in and talk about it. We're here to serve you and help you make for a lasting remembrance for your loved one.
