So many times when a death occurs, people don't know where to begin personalizing their loved one's funeral. Everything from family photos, home movies, favorite sports team memorabilia, fishing rods, golf clubs and bowling balls are a part of what makes your loved one the unique individual they were and always will be. Often, people want to get rid of the reminders of their departed family members. We encourage you to not only bring those items to the funeral home to be put on display, but to keep them in a special place in your homes going forward. A life lasts only so long, but memories can live on forever.

CHRISTMAS IS COMING!

Tired of the same old, same old when it comes to Christmas. Yes, there's much to be said for tradition, but sometimes you've got to branch out to make new memories, and start new traditions. We're still looking for a new Christmas Lights tour destination for this coming December. If you have any suggestions for someplace new we'd be glad to hear it. Drop your ideas in the mail with the form above and we'll take it from there. Many of the drive-thru lighting displays we've researched thus far don't look very exciting. So we may be taking the plunge and heading for an outdoor walking tour. Be sure to look for next month's newsletter and join us as we step out of the old and into the new.
